An effective method for figuring out a value is to send out a survey to your current customers. If these prospects have already bought an book from you, ask for his or her opinion when it comes to price. Do this by creating a sales web page for the new guide, but do not include a price on that page. As an alternative, add quite a lot of links to survey questions that ask pointed questions to aid you in assigning a worth to your ebook.

One other strategy is to check out costs by making a variety of duplicate gross sales pages with different prices on each page. Ensure your sales copy is strictly the same on every web page, and contains your promoting-deal with sentence. Then figure out for every web page the conversion ratio between visitors to your site and gross sales of your book. This will inform you what your optimum price is.

In the end, should you've written a guide that solves a drawback or presents a new method, your guide will bring in both site visitors and profits. So make sure you write that promoting-handle sentence that sums up what downside your book solves and what the benefits of your 1870 ebook will probably be to the shoppers who purchase it. And then watch your market come to you!
